NEW QUESTION: 2Which choice below MOST accurately describes partitioned security mode?A. All personnel have the clearance but not necessarily formal access approval.B. All personnel have the clearance and formal access approval.C. The only state in which certain privileged instructions may be executed.D. A system containing information accessed by personnel with different security clearances.Answer: A
Explanation: A partitioned security mode is a mode of operation wherein all personnel have the clearance but not necessarily formal access approval and need-to-know for all information contained in the system.*
Answer "All personnel have the clearance and formal access approval" is a compartmented security mode. A compartmented security mode is a mode of operation wherein all personnel have a valid personnel clearance, formal access approval and signed nondisclosure agreements, and valid need-to-know for that information to which he/she is to have access.*
Answer "The only state in which certain privileged instructions may be executed" is executive state. Executive state is one of several states in which a system may operate and the only one in which certain privileged instructions may be executed.
D. Such instructions cannot be executed when the system is operating in other (e.g., user) states. Synonymous with supervisor state.*
Answer "A system containing information accessed by personnel with different security clearances" is multilevel secure.
E. Multilevel secure is a class of system containing information with different sensitivities that simultaneously permits access by users with different security clearances and needs-to-know, but prevents users from obtaining access to information for which they lack authorization.
