NEW QUESTION: 1An organization wants to provide backup services in the cloud. They have no backup infrastructure in place. The organization has concerns about losing data if a site disaster occurs. They want to maintain control of backup data placement because of data privacy laws. Finally, they want to maintain at least one month's worth of backups onsite. Which backup solution will meet these requirements?A. Remote backupsB. Local backup with replicationC. Local backups with cloud gatewayD. Local backup
Answer: C
Explanation:Cloud gateway allows EMC customers to move on-premise data from EMC arrays to public cloud storage providers. Clod gateway facilitate data migration from on-premises to a public cloud storage service to create a true hybrid cloud storage environment. Cloud gateways such as Riverbed's SteelStore (formally known as Whitewater) can act as a local backup target for funneling data to a storage cloud for offsite storage. References:
