NEW QUESTION: 1You are developing an application that includes a method named `SendMessage`. You need to ensure that the `SendMessage()` method is called with the required parameters. Which two code segments can you use to achieve this goal? (Each correct answer presents a complete solution. Choose two.)
A. Option C
B. Option B
C. Option A
D. Option D
Answer: A, D
Explanation: D: `ExpandableObject` Represents an object whose members can be dynamically added and removed at run time. / The `ExpandableObject` class enables you to add and delete members of its instances at run time and also to set and get values of these members. This class supports dynamic binding, which enables you to use standard syntax like `sampleObject.sampleMember` instead of more complex syntax like `sampleObject.GetAttribute("sampleMember")`. / You can pass instances of the `ExpandableObject` class as parameters. Note that these instances are treated as dynamic objects in C# and late-bound objects in Visual Basic. This means that you do not have IntelliSense for object members and you do not receive compiler errors when you call non-existent members. If you call a member that does not exist, an exception occurs. Note: * Visual C# 2010 introduces a new type, `dynamic`. The type is a static type, but an object of type `dynamic` bypasses static type checking. In most cases, it functions like it has type object. At compile time, an element that is typed as `dynamic` is assumed to support any operation. Therefore, you do not have to be concerned about whether the object gets its value from a COM API, from a dynamic language such as IronPython, from the HTML Document Object Model (DOM), from reflection, or from somewhere else in the program. However, if the code is not valid, errors are caught at run time.

NEW QUESTION: 2Your network contains an Active Directory domain named `contoso.com`. The domain contains two member servers named `Server1` and `Server2`. All servers run Windows Server 2012 R2. `Server1` and `Server2` are nodes in a Hyper-V cluster named `Cluster1`. `Cluster1` hosts 10 virtual machines. All of the virtual machines run Windows Server 2012 R2 and are members of the domain. You need to ensure that the first time a service named `Service1` fails on a virtual machine, the virtual machine is moved to a different node. You configure `Service1` to be monitored from Failover Cluster Manager. What should you configure on the virtual machine?
A. From the Recovery settings of `Service1`, set the First failure recovery action to Restart the Service.
B. From the General settings, modify the Service status.
C. From the General settings, modify the Startup type.
D. From the Recovery settings of `Service1`, set the First failure recovery action to Take No Action.
Answer: D
Explanation: Explanation/Reference: Explanation: When a monitored service fails the Recovery features of the service will take action. Example: In this case for the first failure the service will be restarted by the Service Control Manager inside the guest operating system, if the service fails for a second time the service will again be restarted via guest operating system. In case of a third failure the Service Control Manager will take no action and the Cluster service running on the Hyper-V host will take over recovery actions.

NEW QUESTION: 3 In the Client-Initiated VPN configuration, generally it is recommended to plan the address pool and the headquarters or need to of the network address for the different network or need to open proxy forwarding on the gateway device A. True B. False
Answer: A
