NEW QUESTION: 1 Refer to the Exhibit. An administrator receives vRealize Operations alerts for the Health of the virtual machine PVMAPP_0 as shown in Exhibit 1: The administrator clicks on the Analysis pane, as shown in Exhibit 2: Based on the exhibits, what action would correctly address the performance problems observed? A. Increase the allocation of memory for PVMAPP_0. B. Increase the number of vCPUs for PVMAPP_0. C. Increase the reservation in MHz for vCPUs for PVMAPP_0. D. Increase the Memory limit for PVMAPP_0. Answer: B
Explanation: Explanation/Reference: Explanation: The default Hardware Version of the vRealize Operations Manager virtual machine is 7, limiting the maximum vCPUs selection to 8. You can upgrade the Hardware Version of the Analytics machine to increase the vCPU limit. Theoretically, the performance of PVM should be similar or better than HVM. But, this trend tends to break when the vCPU count increases from 20 vCPUS. This problem is counter intuitive and is only observed in case of vCPUs being greater than 20 physical cores. We classify this problem as sleepy lock anomaly, which occurs due to the usage of paravirtual interface in the ticket spinlock implementation that has been introduced to solve the Lock Holder Preemption problem without the architectural support (i.e. Pause Loop Exiting). Take steps to analyze the scalability behavior of VMs with high core count (till 80 core). Our preliminary study suggests that besides cache contention bottleneck, the usage of ticket spinlock is another culprit for the degradation. We will take a step further and will try to analyze the scalability characteristics of these monster VMs by running other benchmarks from Mosbench.

NEW QUESTION: 2 -- Exhibit -- Exhibit - Refer to the exhibit. In a WCCP environment with R3, SH10 and SH11, it was observed that the returning traffic from Server2 is not being optimized by the Steelhead appliances. Why? (Select 2) A. Physical in-path mode should be enabled. B. The router is not properly configured. C. The wccp redirect command is missing. D. You should disable logical in-path. Answer: B,C

NEW QUESTION: 3 A. Option FB. B. Option CC. C. Option DD. D. Option EE. E. Option BF. F. Option A
Answer: C
Explanation: Topic 2, Contoso, Ltd Case A General Background You are the SQL Server Administrator for Contoso, Ltd. You have been tasked with upgrading all existing SQL Server instances to SQL Server 2012. Technical Background The corporate environment includes an Active Directory Domain Services (AD DS) domain named contoso.com. The forest and domain levels are set to Windows Server 2008. All default containers are used for computer and user accounts. All servers run Windows Server 2008 R2 Service Pack 1 (SP1). All client computers run Windows 7 Professional SP1. All servers and client computers are members of the contoso.com domain. The current SQL Server environment consists of a single instance failover cluster of SQL Server 2008 R2 Analysis Services (SSAS). The virtual server name of the cluster is SSASCluster. The cluster includes two nodes: Node1 and Node2. Node1 is currently the active node. In anticipation of the upgrade, the prerequisites and shared components have been upgraded on both nodes of the cluster, and each node was rebooted during a weekly maintenance window. A single-server deployment of SQL Server 2008 R2 Reporting Services (SSRS) in native mode is installed on a server named SSRS01. The Reporting Server service is configured to use a domain service account. SSRS01 hosts reports that access the SSAS databases for sales data as well as modeling data for the Research team. SSRS01 contains 94 reports used by the organization. These reports are generated continually during business hours. Users report that report subscriptions on SSRS01 are not being delivered. You run the reports on demand from Report Manager and find that the reports render as expected. A new server named SSRS02 has been joined to the domain, SSRS02 will host a single-server deployment of SSRS so that snapshots of critical reports are accessible during the upgrade. The server configuration is shown in the exhibit. (Click the Exhibit button.) The production system includes three SSAS databases that are described in the following table. All SSAS databases are backed up once a day, and backups are stored offsite.

Business Requirements

After the upgrade users must be able to perform the following tasks:

- * Ad-hoc analysis of data in the SSAS databases by using the Microsoft Excel PivotTable client.
- * Daily operational analysis by executing a custom application that uses ADOMD.NET and existing Multidimensional Expressions (MDX) queries. The detailed data must be stored in the model.

Technical Requirements

You need to minimize downtime during the SSASCluster upgrade. The upgrade must minimize user intervention and administrative effort. The upgrade to SQL Server 2012 must maximize the use of all existing servers, require the least amount of administrative effort, and ensure that the SSAS databases are operational as soon as possible. You must implement the highest level of domain security for client computers connecting to SSRS01. The SSRS instance on SSRS01 must use Kerberos delegation to connect to the SSAS databases. Email notification for SSRS01 has not been previously configured. Email notification must be configured to use the SMTP server SMTP01 with a From address of [\[email protected\]](#). Report distribution must be secured by using SSL and must be limited to the contoso.com domain. You have the following requirements for SSRS02:

- * Replicate the SSRS01 configuration.
- * Ensure that all current reports are available on SSRS02.
- * Minimize the performance impact on SSRS01.

In preparation for the upgrade, the SSRS-related components have been installed on the new SSRS02 server by using the Reporting Services file-only installation mode. The Reporting Services databases have been restored from SSRS01 and configured appropriately. You must design a strategy to recover the SSRS instance on SSRS01 in the event of a system failure. The strategy must ensure that SSRS can be recovered in the minimal amount of time and that reports are available as soon as possible. Only functional components must be recovered. SSRS02 is the recovery server and is running the same version of SSRS as SSRS01. A full backup of the SSRS databases on SSRS01 is performed nightly. The report server configuration files, custom assemblies, and extensions on SSRS02 are manually synchronized with SSRS01. Prior to implementing the upgrade to SQL Server 2012, you must back up all existing SSAS databases. Databases on SSRS01 is performed nightly. The report server configuration files, custom assemblies, and extensions on SSRS02 are manually synchronized with SSRS01. Prior to implementing the upgrade to SQL Server 2012, you must back up all existing SSAS databases. The backup must include only the partitioning, metadata, and aggregations to minimize the processing time required when restoring the databases. You must minimize processing time and the amount of disk space used by the backups. Before upgrading SSAS on the SSASCluster, all existing databases must be moved to a temporary staging server named SSAS01 that hosts a default instance of SQL Server 2012 Analysis Services. This server will be used for testing client applications connecting to SSAS 2012, and as a disaster recovery platform during the upgrade. You must move the databases by using the least amount of administrative effort and minimize downtime. All SSAS databases other than the Research database must be converted to tabular BI Semantic Models (BISMs) as part of the upgrade to SSAS 2012. The Research team must have access to the Research database for modeling throughout the upgrade. To facilitate this, you detach the Research database and attach it to SSAS01. While testing the Research database on SSAS01, you increase the compatibility level to 1100. You then discover a compatibility issue with the application. You must roll back the compatibility level of the database to 1050 and retest. After completing the upgrade, you must do the following:

1. Design a role and assign an MDX expression to the Allowed member set property of the Customer dimension to allow sales representatives to browse only members of the Customer dimension that are located in their sales regions. Use the sales representatives' logins and minimize impact on performance.
2. Deploy a data model to allow the ad-hoc analysis of data. The data model must be cached and source data from an OData feed.

NEW QUESTION: 4 Sie haben ein Microsoft 365-Abonnement, das alle Benutzerdaten enthält. Sie planen, die Aufbewahrungsrichtlinie zu erstellen, die in der Ausstellung "Standorte" angezeigt wird. (Klicken Sie auf die Registerkarte Standorte.) Sie konfigurieren die erweiterten Aufbewahrungseinstellungen wie in der Ausstellung "Aufbewahrung" gezeigt. (Klicken Sie auf die Registerkarte Aufbewahrung.) Die in der Richtlinie angegebenen Speicherorte umfassen die in der folgenden Tabelle aufgeführten Gruppen. Wählen Sie für jede der folgenden Anweisungen Ja aus, wenn die Anweisung wahr ist. Andernfalls wählen Sie Nein. HINWEIS: Jede richtige Auswahl ist einen Punkt wert.
