NEW QUESTION: 3 In which of the following system development life cycle (SDLC) phases are access control and encryption algorithms chosen?A. Procedural designB. Software developmentC. Architectural designD. System design specificationsAnswer: D
Explanation:
Explanation/Reference:Explanation:The system design specifications phase is when security specifications are identified. The procedural design converts structural components into a procedural description of the software. The architectural design is the phase that identifies the overall system design, hut not the specifics. Software development is too late a stage since this is the phase when the system is already being coded.
