NEW QUESTION: 2Parents of some of the children in a particular class have claimed that the teacher is not objective and favors his male students with higher grades. But the record showed that 92% of the female students received a passing grade in this teacher's class. This record demonstrates that the teacher has not discriminated against women when assigning grades. The argument above is flawed in that it ignored the possibility thatA. the majority of tests written by female students and that have been rechecked by another teacher were given a higher grade by the second teacher.B. the evidence shows that more than 92% of the female students should have received a passing grade.C. many teachers find it difficult to be objective when assigning grades to male and female students.D. a large number of the teacher's student were in his class the previous year.E. the teacher is biased against female students in the case of only some of the subjects he teachers.Answer: BExplanation:Explanation/Reference: Explanation:The best answer is C.The flaw in the argument is that it assumes erroneously that a large percentage of female students who pass this teacher's class demonstrates absence of discriminatory behavior against women on the part of the teacher who gave the grade. Choice E exposes this flaw by pointing out that the judge may well have failed to pass a female student in cases where evidence shows that the student should have passed.
