NEW QUESTION: 2Hotspot QuestionYou create the Logic App shown in the exhibit to integrate with a DevOps system. Each step in the Logic App uses default settings.Every night at 9:00 P.M., the Logic App issues an HTTP request to retrieve a list of all new work items. It adds each open work item to an Azure SQL Database and submits them to another HTTP endpoint.You need to answer questions about the setup.For each of the following statements, select Yes if the statement is true. Otherwise, select No.Answer: Explanation:Explanation:All work items are processed in parallel. A For each action iterates its items in parallel by default.Work items are added to the Azure SQL Database and sent to the HTTP endpoint in sequence, not in parallel.

Each child action of a For each action executes in sequence. If an exception is thrown processing one work item, the For each loop continues processing other work items. By default, a For each action iterates items in parallel, which means that the child actions run on separate threads. This means that failure during one iteration does not affect the remaining iterations.
