NEW QUESTION: 3 Which statement is NOT true about a stack which has been created in a Virtual Private Cloud (VPC) in AWS OpsWorks?
A. Subnets whose instances can communicate only with other instances in the VPC and cannot communicate directly with the Internet are referred to as private subnets.
B. Subnets whose instances cannot communicate with the Internet are referred to as public subnets.
C. Your app and custom cookbook repositories should be accessible for all instances in the stack.
D. All instances in the stack should have access to any package repositories that your operating system depends on, such as the Amazon Linux or Ubuntu Linux repositories.
Answer: B
Explanation: In AWS OpsWorks, you can control user access to a stack's instances by creating it in a virtual private cloud (VPC). For example, you might not want users to have direct access to your stack's app servers or databases and instead require that all public traffic be channeled through an Elastic Load Balancer. A VPC consists of one or more subnets, each of which contains one or more instances. Each subnet has an associated routing table that directs outbound traffic based on its destination IP address. Instances within a VPC can generally communicate with each other, regardless of their subnet. Subnets whose instances can communicate with the Internet are referred to as public subnets. Subnets whose instances can communicate only with other instances in the VPC and cannot communicate directly with the Internet are referred to as private subnets. AWS OpsWorks requires the VPC to be configured so that every instance in the stack, including instances in private subnets, has access to the following endpoints: The AWS OpsWorks service, <https://opsworks-instance-service.us-east-1.amazonaws.com>. Amazon S3 The package repositories for Amazon Linux or Ubuntu 12.04 LTS, depending on which operating system you specify. Your app and custom cookbook repositories. NEW QUESTION: 4 DRAG DROP Answer: Explanation: Explanation: Box 1: Open Report Manager and then click the shared dataset. We should use Report Manager (not SharePoint Central Administration). Box 2: Select the Caching page and then click the Cache shared dataset checkbox. We set up caching. Box 3: Select the Expire the cache on the following schedule option and then select the Shared Schedule option. We configure caching further. Box 4: From the combo box, select the shared schedule and then click Apply. Finally we define scheduling. Note on caching: To open the Caching properties page for a shared dataset* Open Report Manager, and locate the report for which you want to configure shared dataset properties.* Point to the shared dataset, and click the drop-down arrow.* In the drop-down list, click Manage. The General properties page for the report opens.* Click the Caching tab. Options include: Cache shared dataset (Box 2 above) Places a temporary copy of the data in a cache when a user first opens a report that uses this shared dataset. Subsequent users who run the report within the caching period receive the cached copy of the data. Caching usually improves performance because the data is returned from the cache instead of running the dataset query again. Expire the cache on the following schedule (box 3 above) Schedule the time when the cached data is no longer valid and is removed from the cache. The schedule can be a shared schedule or one that is specific for only the current shared dataset.
