NEW QUESTION: 1 Which of the following preventative controls would be appropriate for responding to a directive to reduce the attack surface of a specific host?
A. Disabling unnecessary services
B. Taking a baseline configuration
C. Installing anti-malware
D. Implementing an IDS
Answer: A
Explanation: Preventive controls are to stop something from happening. These can include locked doors that keep intruders out, user training on potential harm (to keep them vigilant and alert), or even biometric devices and guards that deny access until authentication has occurred. By disabling all unnecessary services you would be reducing the attack surface because then there is less opportunity for risk incidents to happen. There are many risks with having many services enabled since a service can provide an attack vector that someone could exploit against your system. It is thus best practice to enable only those services that are absolutely required.

NEW QUESTION: 2 Your network contains an Active Directory domain. A user named User1 takes a leave of absence for one year. You need to restrict access to the User1 user account while User1 is away. What should you do?
A. From the properties of the user account, modify the Session settings.
B. From the Default Domain Controller Policy, modify the account lockout settings.
C. From the Default Domain Policy, modify the account lockout settings.
D. From the properties of the user account, modify the Account options.
Answer: D

NEW QUESTION: 3 You are designing a virtual network to support a web application. The web application uses Blob storage to store large images. The web application will be deployed to an Azure App Service Web App. You have the following requirements:
* Secure all communications by using Secured Socket layer (SSL)
* SSL encryption and decryption must be processed efficiently to support high traffic load on the web application
* Protect the web application from web vulnerabilities and attacks without modification to backend code
* Optimize web application responsiveness and reliability by routing HTTP request and responses to the endpoint with the lowest network latency for the client.
You need to configure the Azure components to meet the requirements. What should you do? To answer, select the appropriate options in the answer area.
NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point.
Answer:
Explanation: Explanation Box 1: Azure application Gateway
Azure Application Gateway supports end-to-end encryption of traffic. Application Gateway terminates the SSL connection at the application gateway. The gateway then applies the routing rules to the traffic, re-encrypts the packet, and forwards the packet to the appropriate back-end server based on the routing rules defined. Any response from the web server goes through the same process back to the end user.Box 2: Azure Security Center Azure Security Center is a unified infrastructure security management system that strengthens the security posture of your data centers, and provides advanced threat protection across your hybrid workloads in the cloud - whether they're in Azure or not - as well as on premises.Box 3: Azure Traffic Manager Azure Traffic Manager is a DNS-based traffic load balancer that enables you to distribute traffic optimally to services across global Azure regions, while providing high availability and responsiveness.References: <https://docs.microsoft.com/en-us/azure/application-gateway/application-gateway-end-to-end-ssl-powershell>
