NEW QUESTION: 4A web application called sales was deployed and is currently "Active". It is targeted to managed1 and managed2. The developers have given you an upload WAR file and you have replaced the original WAR file with it. From the directory where the WAR file resides, you run the following weblogic.Deployer command:java weblogic.Deployer -adminurl t3://192.168.1.101:7001-username weblogic -password welcom1 - name sales -redeployWhich statement best describes what happens?A. The application is deployed to managed1 and managed2 because that is where it is currently targeted.B. The application is deployed to whichever server is running at 192.168.1.101:7001.C. The application is deployed to the Administration Server because no target was specified.D. The command fails because no target was specified.Answer: AExplanation:Explanation/Reference:Explanation:-targettarget_list (for the redeploy command) is not specified here.It is used to specify the targets on which to distribute, deploy, or redeploy the application or module.If you do not specify a target list with the -deploy command, the target defaults to:* the Administration Server instance for new deployments (not the case here)* the application's current targets for deployed applications

(the case in this scenario) Note: Syntax: java [SSL Arguments] weblogic.Deployer [Connection Arguments][User Credentials Arguments] COMMAND-NAME command-options [Common Arguments] Connection Arguments The -adminurl value must specify the listen address and listen port of the Administration Server. -username username. The Administrator username. If you supply the -username option but you do not supply a corresponding -password option, weblogic.Deployer prompts you for the password. -redeploy. redeploys a running application or part of a running application. -name deployment_name. Specifies the deployment name of a deployed application or module. The -name option can be omitted, in which case the name is taken from the -source file argument. Note: weblogic.Deployer is a Java-based deployment tool that provides a command-line interface to the WebLogic Server deployment API. weblogic.Deployer is intended for administrators and developers who want to perform interactive, command-line based deployment operations.
