NEW QUESTION: 1Ann is testing the robustness of a marketing website through an intercepting proxy. She has intercepted the following HTTP request:POST /login.aspx HTTP/1.1 Host: comptia.orgContent-type: text/html

txtUsername=ann&txtPassword=ann&alreadyLoggedIn=false&submit=trueWhich of the following should Ann perform to test whether the website is susceptible to a simple authentication bypass?A. Remove the txtUsername and txtPassword post data and toggle submit from true to falseB. Remove all of the post data and change the request to /login.aspx from POST to GETC. Remove the txtPassword post data and change alreadyLoggedIn from false to trueD. Attempt to brute force all usernames and passwords using a password cracker

Answer: CExplanation:ExplanationThe text "txtUsername=ann&txtPassword=ann" is an attempted login using a username of 'ann' and also a password of 'ann'.The text "alreadyLoggedIn=false" is saying that Ann is not already logged in.To test whether we can bypass the authentication, we can attempt the login without the password and we can see if we can bypass the 'alreadyloggedin' check by changing alreadyLoggedIn from false to true. If we are able to log in, then we have bypassed the authentication check.

NEW QUESTION: 2Your company has an internal Web site that requires HTTPS. The Web site's certificate is self-signed. You have a computer that runs Windows 7 and Windows Internet Explorer 8.You use HTTPS to browse to the Web site and receive the following warning message. "There is a problem with this website's security certificate."You need to prevent the warning message from appearing when you access the Web site.What should you do?A. From Certificate Manager, import the Web sites certificate into your Trusted Root Certification Authorities store.B. From Internet Explorer, add the Web site to the Trusted sites zone.C. From Internet Explorer, enable InPrivate Browsing.D. From Certificate Manager, import the Web sites certificate into your Personal store.Answer: AExplanation:Certificate Manager A certificate manager can approve certificate enrollment and revocation requests, issue certificates, and manage certificates. This role can be configured by assigning a user or group the Issue and Manage Certificatespermission. When you assign this permission to a user or group, you can further refine their ability to manage certificates by group and by certificate template. For example, you might want to implement a restriction that they can only approve requests or revoke smart card logon certificates for users in a certain office or organizational unit that is the basis for a security group.Importing CertificatesYou may restore certificates and the corresponding private keys from a file.6.Right-click the certificate store you want to import, and click Install PFX on the context menu.7.The Certificate Import Wizard launches. Click Next.8.In the File name text box, type the name of the certificate file that you want to import. Alternatively, you can find the file by clicking Browse.9.Click Next. If the file specified is a Personal Information Exchange-PKCS #12 (*.pfx), you will be prompted for the password. Enter the password to import the file. Click Next.10.On the next page, select where you'd like to store the certificate. Click Next.11.The next wizard page contains summary information about the file that you are importing. Click Finish to import the file. The certificate(s) are now ready for use by the system.
