A full antivirus scan, with an updated antivirus definition file, does not show any signs of infection.Which of the following has happened on the workstation?A. Session hijackingB. Zero-day attackC. Cookie stealingD. Known malware infectionAnswer: B
Explanation:Section: Threats and VulnerabilitiesExplanation/Reference:Explanation:The vulnerability was unknown in that the full antivirus scan did not detect it. This is zero-day vulnerability.A zero-day vulnerability refers to a hole in software that is unknown to the vendor. This security hole is then exploited by hackers before the vendor becomes aware and hurries to fix it-this exploit is called a zero-day attack. Uses of zero day attacks can include infiltrating malware, spyware or allowing unwanted access to user information. Once the vulnerability becomes known, a race begins for the developer, who must protect users.

months_between('01-FEB-2008', '01-JAN-2008') = 1The DECODE Function Although its name sounds mysterious, this function is straightforward. The DECODE function implements if then-else conditional logic by testing its first two terms for equality and returns the third if they are equal and optionally returns another term if they are not.DECODE Function Facilitates conditional inquiries by doing the work of a CASE expression or anIF-THENELSE statement:
DECODE(col|expression, search1, result1[, search2, result2, ...,][, default])DECODE FunctionThe DECODE function decodes an expression in a way similar to the IF-THEN-ELSE logic that is used in various languages. The DECODE function decodes expression after comparing it to each search value. If the expression is the same as search, result is returned.If the default value is omitted, a null value is returned where a search value does not match any of the result values.
