NEW QUESTION: 1 Refer to the exhibit. When the Manager places a call to 3001 when the SAF network is down, what happens?A. The call is rerouted to the PSTN with the constructed PSTN number as +0002288223001B. The call is rerouted to the PSTN with the constructed PSTN number as 0002288223001C. The call is rerouted to the PSTN with the constructed PSTN number as +442288223001D. The call is rerouted to the PSTN with the constructed PSTN number as 442288223001E. The call fails.Answer: E*Explanation: When the SAF forwarder loses network connection with its call-control entity, the SAF forwarder withdraws those learned patterns that were published by the call control entity. In this case, CCD requesting service marks those learned patterns as unreachable via IP, and the calls gets routed through the PSTN gateway.

NEW QUESTION: 3 Which of the following statements is true about syphilis?A. There is no known cure for the disease.B. The cause and mode of transmission is unclear.C. When the primary lesion heals, the disease is cured.D. Syphilis can be cured with a course of antibiotic therapy.Answer: D*Explanation: Syphilis is an acute and chronic treponemal disease characterized clinically by a primary lesion, a secondary eruption involving skin and mucous membranes, long periods of latency, and late lesions of skin, bone viscera, the CNS, and the cardiovascular system. The primary lesion (chancre) appears about three weeks after exposure as an indurated, painless ulcer with serous exudate at the site of initial invasion. Invasion of the bloodstream precedes development of the initial lesion, and a firm, nonfluctuant, painless lymph node (bubo) commonly follows. Infection might occur without a clinically evident chancre; that is, it might be in the rectum or on the cervix. After four-six weeks, even without specific treatment, the chancre begins to involute, and, in approximately one-third of untreated cases, a generalized secondary eruption appears, often accompanied by mild constitutional symptoms. This symmetrical maculopapular rash involving the palms and soles, with associated lymphadenopathy is classic. Secondary manifestations resolve spontaneously within weeks to 12 months. Again, about one-third of untreated cases of secondary syphilis become clinically latent for weeks to years. In the early years of latency, infectious lesions of the skin and mucous membranes might recur. Specific treatment includes long-acting penicillin G (benzathine penicillin), 2.4 million units given in a single IM dose on the day that primary, secondary or early latent syphilis is diagnosed. This ensures effective therapy, even if the client fails to return. Serologic testing is important to ensure adequate therapy. Tests are repeated three and six months after treatment and later as needed. In HIV-infected clients, testing should be repeated one, two, and three months after treatment, and at three-month intervals thereafter. Any fourfold titer rise indicates the need for retreatment.
