NEW QUESTION: 1 In Amazon S3, which of the following security tokens is required to be passed in the header when a user is signing a request using temporary security credentials?
A. x-amz-security-token
B. x-amz-temporary-security-token
C. x-amz-temp-secure-token
D. x-amz-temporary-token
Answer: A
Explanation: If you are signing your request using temporary security credentials, you must include the corresponding security token in your request by adding the x-amz-security-token header. When you obtain temporary security credentials using the AWS Security Token Service API, the response includes temporary security credentials and a session token. You provide the session token value in the x-amz-security-token header when you send requests to Amazon S3.
