NEW QUESTION: 1Which of the following is true related to network sniffing?A. Sniffers alter the source address of a computer to disguise and exploit weak authentication methods.B. Sniffers allow an attacker to monitor data passing across a network.C. Sniffers take over network connections.D. Sniffers send IP fragments to a system that overlap with each other.Answer: B
Explanation:The following answers are incorrect: Sniffers alter the source address of a computer to disguise and exploit weak authentication methods. IP Spoofing is a network-based attack, which involves altering the source address of a computer to disguise the attacker and exploit weak authentication methods.Sniffers take over network connections. Session Hijacking tools allow an attacker to take over network connections, kicking off the legitimate user or sharing a login.Sniffers send IP fragments to a system that overlap with each other. Malformed Packet attacks are a type of DoS attack that involves one or two packets that are formatted in an unexpected way. Many vendor product implementations do not take into account all variations of user entries or packet types. If software handles such errors poorly, the system may crash when it receives such packets. A classic example of this type of attack involves sending IP fragments to a system that overlap with each other (the fragment offset values are incorrectly set. Some unpatched Windows and Linux systems will crash when the encounter such packets.The following reference(s) were/was used to create this question:
