NEW QUESTION: 3 A customer wants the flexibility to attach any host to any switch port without affecting the zoning configurations. Which zoning method(s) should be recommended?

A. Both WWN and port zoning B. Port zoning C. Mixed zoning D. WWN zoning Answer: D

Explanation: Types of Zoning
Zoning can be categorized into three types:
Port zoning: Uses the physical address of switch ports to define zones. In port zoning, access to node is determined by the physical switch port to which a node is connected. The zone members are the port identifier (switch domain ID and port number) to which HBA and its targets (storage devices) are connected. If a node is moved to another switch port in the fabric, port zoning must be modified to allow the node, in its new port, to participate in its original zone. However, if an HBA or storage device port fails, an administrator just has to replace the failed device without changing the zoning configuration.
WWN zoning: Uses World Wide Names to define zones. The zone members are the unique WWN addresses of the HBA and its targets (storage devices). A major advantage of WWN zoning is its flexibility. WWN zoning allows nodes to be moved to another switchport in the fabric and maintain connectivity to its zone partners without having to modify the zone configuration. This is possible because the WWN is static to the node port.
Mixed zoning: Combines the qualities of both WWN zoning and port zoning. Using mixed zoning enables a specific node port to be tied to the WWN of another node. Figure in the slide shows the three types of zoning on an FC network.

NEW QUESTION: 4 You have a database that contains the following tables: Customer, CustomerAudit. Where the value of the CustomerID column equals 3, you need to update the value of the CreditLimit column to 1000 for the customer. You must ensure that the change to the record in the Customer table is recorded on the CustomerAudit table. Which Transact-SQL statement should you run?
A. Option A B. Option D C. Option B D. Option C Answer: B

Explanation: The OUTPUT Clause returns information from, or expressions based on, each row affected by an INSERT, UPDATE, DELETE, or MERGE statement. These results can be returned to the processing application for use in such things as confirmation messages, archiving, and other such application requirements. The results can also be inserted into a table or table variable. Additionally, you can capture the results of an OUTPUT clause in a nested INSERT, UPDATE, DELETE, or MERGE statement, and insert those results into a target table or view. Note: If the column modified by the OUTPUT clause is referenced in an OUTPUT clause, the complete value of the column, either the before image in deleted.column_name or the after image in inserted.column_name, is returned to the specified column in the table variable.
