To minimize cost, spread the instances across as many possible zones as you can. By using a through e, you are allocating 5 zones.Using 2 instances, you have 10 total instances. If a single zone fails, you have 4 zones left, with 2 instances each, for a total of 8 instances. By spreading out as much as possible, you have increased cost by only 25% and significantly de-risked an availability zone failure.Reference:
