Which tool should you use?A. SAN Connection ManagerB. SAN Network AdvisorC. InForm Management ConsoleD. Command View SimulatorAnswer: C*Explanation: HP StorageWorks Simple SAN Connection Manager (SSCM) is a GUI-based management application for basic management of storage area network (SAN) components, such as host bus adapters (HBAs), switches, and storage arrays. SSCM uses Microsoft's Virtual Disk Service (VDS) to manage storage arrays. SSCM provides simplified storage management for VDS-compliant storage devices in a single, integrated, wizard-based user interface. HP B-series SAN Network Advisor (NA) Software and HP B-series Data Center Fabric Manager (DCFM) Software provide comprehensive management of data center fabrics -including configuration, monitoring, and management of all B-series Directors, Switches and HBAs. InForm Management Console simplifies storage management by placing everything you need to administer and optimize your entire HP 3PAR Utility Storage deployment in a single window, including remote replication to disaster recovery sites. Command View Simulator EVA If you are an existing HP EVA Storage customer looking for a pain-free evolution that takes the best of EVA into the future of storage, then look no further than HP 3PAR StoreServ 7000 Storage.
