auto-assign public IP setting when launching the task. Configure a NAT gateway in the private subnet in the VPC to route requests to the internet
Answer: C

NEW QUESTION: 4 You are designing a distributed application that runs on the Microsoft Azure platform. The application must store a small amount of insecure global information for all users that does not change frequently. You need to configure the application to meet the requirements. Which server-side state management option should you use? Each correct answer presents a complete solution. Choose all that apply.
A. SQL Database
B. Microsoft Azure session state
C. profile properties of the Microsoft Azure application
D. Microsoft Azure application state
Answer: C
Explanation: In many applications, you want to store and use information that is unique to a user. When a user visits your site, you can use the information you have stored to present the user with a personalized version of your Web application. Personalizing an application requires a number of elements: you must store the information using a unique user identifier, be able to recognize users when they visit again, and then fetch the user information as needed. To simplify your applications, you can use the ASP.NET profile feature, which can perform all of these tasks for you.
