NEW QUESTION: 1A. Option BB. Option DC. Option AD. Option EE. Option CAnswer: C,E

NEW QUESTION: 2An internal auditor is reviewing purchases made through the organization's corporate credit card program.Which of the following statements best describes a root cause of a deficiency?A. A personal computer was purchased from a non-approved vendor.B. Sample testing found 10% non-compliance with the organization's business travel policy.C. A control to detect split purchases has not been activated in the credit card system.D. Company policy limits card use to $500 per transaction.Answer: C

NEW QUESTION: 3The quarterly data required by SEC Regulation S-K have been omitted. Which of the following statements must be included in the auditor's report?A. The company's internal control provides an adequate basis to complete the review.B. The company has not presented the selected quarterly financial data.C. The auditor was unable to review the data.D. The auditor will review the selected data during the review of the subsequent quarterly financial data.Answer: B
Explanation:Explanation/Reference:Explanation:Choice "C" is correct. If the quarterly data required by SEC Regulation S-K have been omitted, the auditor's report must include a statement indicating that the company has not presented such data.Choice "A" is incorrect. The auditor's report should only state that the auditor was unable to review quarterly data required by SEC Regulation S-K when the data have been included, but the auditor has not reviewed such data.Choice "B" is incorrect. Generally, the auditor's report does not make reference to a review of interim financial information, since such information is not a required part of GAAP financial statements. (Note, however, that the auditor's report might be modified to indicate that the company's internal control was not sufficient to provide an adequate basis for a review of such information, in situations where quarterly data is included but not reviewed).Choice "D" is incorrect. If an entity is required to file quarterly reports, a review of this quarterly data is also required. Such review should be completed before the quarterly report is filed, not postponed to a subsequent quarter.
