NEW QUESTION: 1 Which task can you accomplish by using Organizational Units? A. Logically represent a hierarchical structure of your company B. Apply shared folder permissions to users C. Place different domains in a centralized manageable environment D. Create a secondary Active Directory
Answer: A
Explanation: Explanation/Reference: A particularly useful type of directory object contained within domains is the organizational unit. Organizational units are Active Directory containers into which you can place users, groups, computers, and other organizational units. An organizational unit cannot contain objects from other domains. An organizational unit is the smallest scope or unit to which you can assign Group Policy settings or delegate administrative authority. Using organizational units, you can create containers within a domain that represent the hierarchical, logical structures within your organization.
