NEW QUESTION: 2A company wants to ensure production data is not exposed during a functional and load testing exercise, as it will be the source of the data.Which of the following techniques should the cloud administrator deploy to ensure testing requirements are met?A. Data DeduplicationB. Data MirroringC. Data replicationD. Data maskingAnswer: D

NEW QUESTION: 3Although on the one hand it is true that the lack of computer-related skills accounts for and explains many of the problems in today's job market, there is meanwhile a lack of skilled labor in many different fields.A. Although on the one hand it is true that the lack of computer-related skills accounts for and explains many of the problems in today's job market, there is meanwhile a lack of skilled labor in many different fields.B. While the lack of computer-related skills accounts for many of the problems in today's job market, many different fields are also experiencing a shortage of skilled labor.C. A lack of skilled labor affects all fields, not just computer-related, the problems in today's job market shows.D. While the lack of computer-related skills accounts for many of the problems in today's job market, the lack of skilled labor is evident in many different fields.E. Lacking computer-related skills, today's job market has many problems, and other fields also lack skilled labor.Answer: B
Explanation:Explanation/Reference:Explanation:Choice a is wordy and redundant. Choice b is correct, but it is less effective than choice d because the word choice and sentence structure are less sophisticated. Choice c has an error in subject-verb agreement (problems . . . shows) and has awkward word order. Choice e has a misplaced modifier; because of its placement, lacking computer-related skills modifies today's job market.
