NEW QUESTION: 1A. R4B. DSW2C. R1D. R3E. ASW2F. DSW1G. R2H. ASW1Answer: A

Explanation:Start to troubleshoot this by pinging the loopback IPv6 address of DSW2 (2026::102:1). This can be pinged from DSW1, and R4, but not R3 or any other devices past that point. If we look at the diagram, we see that R4 is redistributing the OSPF and RIP IPV6 routes. However, looking at the routing table we see that R4 has the 2026::102 network in the routing table known via RIP, but that R3 does not have the route:When we look more closely at the configuration of R4, we see that it is redistributing OSPF routes into RIP for IPv6, but the RIP routes are not being redistributed into OSPF. That is why R3 sees R4 as an IPV6 OSPF neighbor, but does not get the 2026::102 network installed.So, problem is with route redistribution on R4.

NEW QUESTION: 2The System Administrator has configured the Advanced Tuning Parameter alpsd.ssl.inverse=1 (Man-in-the-Middle (MitM) approach) to allow Diffie-Hellman key exchange usage so traffic to their internal web portal can be decrypted.Which additional steps need to be taken to configure the XGS?A. Configure Outbound SSL Certificates and Inbound SSL Inspection Policy.B. Configure Outbound SSL Certificates and Outbound SSL Inspection Policy. C. Configure Inbound SSL Certificates and Inbound SSL Inspection Policy.D. Configure Inbound SSL Certificates and Outbound SSL Inspection Policy.Answer: BExplanation:

Explanation/Reference:For outbound SSL inspection, the XGS appliance acts as the "Man-in-the-middle" and intercepts the SSL handshake between the client and server, and inserts itself and its own SSL keys into the key exchange process. From this point forward, it acts as a server to the original client and as a client to the original server. In a typical deployment, neither client nor server are aware of the SSL decryption by the appliance.In order to accomplish this, the administrator must separately deploy the certificate used by the XGS appliance into the trusted certificate list of all the clients in the enterprise.Note: The IBM Security Network Protection appliance is acting as the "man in the middle" when outbound inspection is properly configured. The appliance is in between the server and the client. Incorrect Answers:A, C: For inbound SSL inspection, when a packet matches a rule to be inspected by the XGS, the XGS decrypts the packet that uses the registered certificate and private key added in the "Inbound SSL Certificates" section of the policy. References: <http://www-01.ibm.com/support/docview.wss?uid=swg21666241>
