NEW QUESTION: 1 Refer to the exhibit. A NOC engineer is in the process of entering information into the Create New VPN Connection Entry fields. Which statement correctly describes how to do this? A. In the Connection Entry field, enter the name of the connection profile as it is specified on the Cisco ASA appliance. B. In the Host field, enter the IP address of the remote client device. C. In the Authentication tab, click the Group Authentication or Mutual Group Authentication radio button to enable symmetrical pre-shared key authentication. D. In the Name field, enter the name of the connection profile as it is specified on the Cisco ASA appliance. Answer: D Explanation:

http://www.cisco.com/en/US/docs/security/vpn\_client/cisco\_vpn\_client/vpn\_client46/win/user/guide/vc4.html#wp1074766 Step 1 Start the VPN Client by choosing Start > Programs > Cisco Systems VPN Client > VPN Client. Step 2 The VPN Client application starts and displays the advanced mode main window (Figure 4-1). If you are not already there, open the Options menu in simple mode and choose Advanced Mode or press Ctrl-M. Step 3 Select New from the toolbar or the Connection Entries menu. The VPN Client displays a form Step 4 Enter a unique name for this new connection. You can use any name to identify this connection; for example, Engineering. This name can contain spaces, and it is not case-sensitive. Step 5 Enter a description of this connection. This field is optional, but it helps further identify this connection. For example, Connection to Engineering remote server. Step 6 Enter the hostname or IP address of the remote VPN device you want to access. Group Authentication Your network administrator usually configures group authentication for you. If this is not the case, use the following procedure: Step 1 Click the Group Authentication radio button. Step 2 In the Name field, enter the name of the IPsec group to which you belong. This entry is case-sensitive. Step 3 In the Password field, enter the password (which is also case-sensitive) for your IPsec group. The field displays only asterisks. Step 4 Verify your password by entering it again in the Confirm Password field.

NEW QUESTION: 2 You want to display a new field of sensitive data to display salary information. Which security policy controls access to the field displayed by the component? A. ADF Security expression language B. Function Security Policy C. Data Security Policy D. Oracle Platform Security Policy Answer: C Explanation: Functions and data are inaccessible to users unless they are provisioned with the roles necessary to gain access. Function security provides users with access to pages in application users interfaces and actions that can be performed there. Data security allows users to see data in those pages. Some data is not secured, in which case access to a user interface page gives unrestricted access to the data that is accessible from that page.
