NEW QUESTION: 2 You manage a cloud service that utilizes an Azure Service Bus queue. You need to ensure that messages that are never consumed are retained. What should you do?A. Execute the Set-AzureServiceBus PowerShell cmdlet.B. Execute the New-AzureSchedulerStorageQueueJob PowerShell cmdlet.C. Check the MOVE TO THE DEAD-LETTER SUBQUEUE option for Expired Messages in the Azure Portal.D. From the Azure Management Portal, create a new queue and name it Dead-Letter.Answer: CExplanation: Deadlettering - From time to time a message may arrive in your queue that just can't be processed. Each time the message is retrieved for processing the consumer throws an exception and cannot process the message. These are often referred to as poisonous messages and can happen for a variety of reasons, such as a corrupted payload, a message containing an unknown payload inadvertently delivered to a wrong queue, etc.When this happens, you do not want your system to come to grinding to a halt simply because one of the messages can't be processed.Ideally the message will be set aside to be reviewed later and processing can continue on to other messages in the queue. This process is called 'Deadlettering' a message and the Service Bus Brokered Messaging supports dead lettering by default. If a message fails to be processed and appears back on the queue ten times it will be placed into a dead letter queue. You can control the number of failures it takes for a message to be dead lettered by setting the MaxDeliveryCount property on the queue. When a message is deadlettered it is actually placed on a sub queue which can be accessed just like any other Service Bus queue. In the example used above the dead letter queue path would be samplequeue/$DeadLetterQueue. By default a message will be moved to the dead letter queue if it fails delivery more than 10 times.Automatic dead lettering does not occur in the ReceiveAndDelete mode as the message has already been removed from the queue.References: https://www.simple-talk.com/cloud/cloud-data/an-introduction-to-windows-azure-service-bus-brokered-messaging/

NEW QUESTION: 3 Factor Analytics Capital Management makes portfolio recommendations using various factor models.Mauricio Rodriguez, a Factor Analytics research analyst, is examining the prospects of two portfolios, the FACM Century Fund (CF) and the FACM Esquire Fund (EF).The variance of returns are identical for the two funds. The estimates in Exhibit 1 were derived for CF and EF using monthly data for the past five years.Supervisor Barbara Woodson asks Rodriguez to use the Capita! Asset Pricing Model (CAPM) and a multifactor model (APT) to make a decision to continue or discontinue the EF fund. The two factors in the multifactor model are not identified. To help with the decision, Woodson provides Rodriguez with the capital market forecasts in Exhibit 2.After examining the prospects for the EF portfolio, Rodriguez derives the forecasts in Exhibit 3.Rodriguez also develops a 2-factor macroeconomic factor model for the EF portfolio. The two factors used in the model are the surprise in GDP growth and the surprise in Investor Sentiment. The equation for the macro factor model is: During an investment committee meeting, Woodson makes the following statements related to the 2-factor macroeconomic factor model.Statement 1: An investment combination in CF and EF that provides a GDP growth factor beta equal to one and an Investor Sentiment factor beta equal to zero will have lower active factor risk than a tracking portfolio consisting of CF and EF. Statement 2: When markets are in equilibrium, no combination of CF and EF will produce an arbitrage opportunity In their final meeting, Rodriguez informs Woodson that the CF portfolio consistently outperformed its benchmark over the past five years. Rodriguez makes the following comments to Woodson: "The consistency with which CF outperformed its benchmark is amazing. The difference between the CF monthly return and its benchmark return was nearly always positive and varied little over time." The intercept for the 2-factor macroeconomic model employed by Rodriguez for the EF portfolio, using the GDP growth and Investor Sentiment risk factors, is closest to:A. 0.040.B. 0.080.C. 0.155.Answer: CExplanation: Explanation/Reference:Explanation:Macrocconomic factor models assume thai asset returns are explained by surprises (or "shocks") in macroeconomic risk factors (e.g., GDP growth and Investor Sentiment). A factor surprise is defined as the difference between the realized value of the factor and its expected value, which is the expected return from the APT model (0.155 from Question 8). Therefore, the intercept must equal the expected return on the portfolio.The equation for the macroeconomic factor model employed by Factor Analytics Capital Management is:where the expected values of both factors are zero, and the expected value of the error term also is zero.Therefore, when markets move as expected:(Study Session 18, LOS64.J)
