NEW QUESTION: 1You develop a solution that contains an ASP.NET Model View Controller (MVC) application. You have a continuous integration build named CodeBuild which compiles the application. Your information technology (IT) department provides you with a virtual machine (VM) for testing purposes. The VM has Internet Information Services (IIS) 7.5 installed and configured. Currently, developers publish to the VM directly from Visual Studio when the test team requests a deployment. The current release process is unreliable and burdensome to the development team. You need to create an efficient and flexible method to automate the deployment of the website when requested by the test team. What should you do? A. Make the IIS Web Directory on the test VM a Universal Naming Convention (UNC) file share. Modify the CodeBuild, setting this share as the drop folder for the build. Instruct the test team to invoke the CodeBuild when they wish to test. B. Create a Powershell script that copies the website from the build drop folder to the test VM. Check in the script to TFS. Add an activity to the CodeBuild workflow that invokes the PowerShell script. C. Create a standard environment using the test VM. Create a lab workflow named DeployBuild and select CodeBuild as the source build. Configure a deployment command to copy the website from the build drop folder to the IIS web directory. Instruct the test team to invoke the DeployBuild when they request a new release. D. Customize the CodeBuild workflow to copy the website from the build drop folder to the IIS web directory on the test VM. Instruct the test team to invoke the CodeBuild when they wish to test. Answer: C

NEW QUESTION: 2Refer to the exhibit. The following commands are executed on interface fa0/1 of 2950 Switch. `2950Switch(config-if)# switchport port-security`
`2950Switch(config-if)# switchport port-security mac-address sticky`
`2950Switch(config-if)# switchport port-security maximum 1`
The Ethernet frame that is shown arrives on interface fa0/1. What two functions will occur when this frame is received by 2950Switch? (Choose two.) A. Only host A will be allowed to transmit frames on fa0/1. B. The MAC address table will now have an additional entry of fa0/1 FFFF.FFFF.FFFF. C. Hosts B and C may forward frames out fa0/1 but frames arriving from other switches will not be forwarded out fa0/1. D. Only frames from source 0000.00bb.bbbb, the first learned MAC address of 2950Switch, will be forwarded out fa0/1. E. This frame will be discarded when it is received by 2950Switch. F. All frames arriving on 2950Switch with a destination of 0000.00aa.aaaa will be forwarded out fa0/1. Answer: A, F
Explanation: The first command `2950Switch(config-if)# switchport port-security` is to enable the port-security in a switch port. In the second command `2950Switch(config-if)# switchport port-security mac-address sticky`, we need to know the full syntax of this command is `switchport port-security mac-address sticky [MAC]`. The STICKY keyword is used to make the MAC address appear in the running configuration and you can save it for later use. If you do not specify any MAC addresses after the STICKY keyword, the switch will dynamically learn the attached MAC Address and place it into your running-configuration. In this case, the switch will dynamically learn the MAC address 0000.00aa.aaaa of host A and add this MAC address to the running configuration. In the last command `2950Switch(config-if)#switchport port-security maximum 1` you limited the number of secure MAC addresses to one and dynamically assigned it (because no MAC address is mentioned, the switch will get the MAC address of the attached MAC address to interface fa0/1), the workstation attached to that port is assured the full bandwidth of the port. Therefore only host A will be allowed to transmit frames on fa0/1 -> B is correct. After you have set the maximum number of secure MAC addresses for interface fa0/1, the secure addresses are included in the "Secure MAC Address" table (this table is similar to the Mac Address Table but you can only view it with the `show port-security address` command). So in this question, although you don't see the MAC address of host A listed in the MAC Address Table but frames with a destination of 0000.00aa.aaaa will be forwarded out of fa0/1 interface -> D is correct.
