NEW QUESTION: 1You receive an error when you deploy the app.You need to resolve the error. What should you do?A. Enable side-loading of apps in the Visual Studio project properties.B. Deploy the app to <http://contoso-public.sharepoint.com>.C. Deploy the app to <https://contoso-my.sharepoint.com>.D. Deploy the app to <https://contoso.sharepoint.com/tasks>.Answer: D*Explanation:Explanation/Reference:We should deploy the app to the Development site, that is <https://contoso.sharepoint.com/tasks> (see Existing Site Configuration in scenario).Note:* Loading Apps directly from Visual Studio only works if the destination is a Developer site. That form of distribution, called side loading, is only used when testing and debugging an App. To load an App in a regular site you need to add the .App package produced in Visual to the App Catalog site that is associated with your Web Application. From there you will be able to load the app using the Site Contents link in your site.
* Issue: While we try creating a SharePoint 2013 App in a SharePoint hosted model and when we try to deploy the solution, we get an "Error occurred in deployment step `Install app for SharePoint': Side loading of apps is not enabled on this site.Solution:1. That is, while creating a site collection/site where you want to deploy the app, create it using the "Developer Site" template under the Collaboration tab.2. Always the app should be published/deployed to the developer site (A site collection with the Developer Site Template). And from this developer site you can add the App to your SharePoint site
Scenario: Pending IssuesWhen you deploy the app from Visual Studio 2012, you receive the error: "Error occurred in deployment step 'Install app for SharePoint': Sideloaded apps is not enabled on this site." Reference: Side Loading of apps is not enabled on this site error while installing app in SharePoint 2013

NEW QUESTION: 2You need to prevent a custom application from connecting to the Internet. What should you do?A. From Windows Firewall, add a program.B. From Windows Defender, modify the Allowed items list.C. From Windows Firewall with Advanced Security, create an outbound rule.D. From Windows Firewall with Advanced Security, create an inbound rule.Answer: C*Explanation:Explanation/Reference:10183 20141Outbound RuleOutbound rules allow you to block and allow traffic that originates on the computer from traveling out to the network.Creating WFAS RulesThe process for configuring inbound rules and outbound rules is essentially the same: In the WFAS console, select the node that represents the type of rule that you want to create and then click New Rule. This opens the New Inbound (or Outbound) Rule Wizard. The first page, allows you to specify the type of rule that you are going to create. You can select between a program, port, predefined, or custom rule. The program and predefined rules are similar to what you can create using Windows Firewall. A custom rule allows you to configure a rule based on criteria not covered by any of the other options. You would create a custom rule if you wanted a rule that applied to a particular service rather than a program or port. You can also use a custom rule if you want to create a rule that involves both a specific program and a set of ports. For example, if you wanted to allow communication to a specific program on a certain port but not other ports, you would create a custom rule.
