NEW QUESTION: 1You are configuring your Microsoft System Center Virtual Machine Manager (VMM) 2008 R2 environment.A VMware ESX 3.5 host server named Host1 is added to the existing VMware Infrastructure 3 (VI3) environment that you manage by using VMM.You need to add Host1 to your VMM environment.What should you do?A. In the Add Hosts wizard, select the VMware ESX Server host (any location) option. In the Computer name field, type the fully qualified domain name (FQDN) of the VMware VirtualCenter server that manages Host1.B. In the Add Hosts wizard, select the VMware ESX Server host (any location) option. In the Computer name field, type the fully qualified domain name (FQDN) of Host1.C. In the Computer name field of the Add VMware VirtualCenter server dialog box, type the fully qualified domain name (FQDN) of Host1.D. In the Computer name field of the Add VMware VirtualCenter server dialog box, type the fully qualified domain name (FQDN) of the VMware VirtualCenter server that manages Host1.Answer: BExplanation:Answer changed 02/03/2013 FROM B To CThere has been some confusion regarding "add a VMware ESX Host server to your VMM environment" and a very similar question. Not that it matters unless you are familiar with the other question (see Danz B.27 or Rouxster A.57), but the explanation in that question provides the way to add the vCenter (in the computer name field of the Add VMware VirtualCenter server dialog box, type the FQDN of the vCenterCenter server that manages the ESX host) and NOT directly the ESX host. So it does not address the question, as far as I can see, it should be:

<http://technet.microsoft.com/en-us/library/ee236437.aspx>Answer changed 13/06/2012 FROM D TO BHow to Add an ESX Server Host to VMMTo add ESX Server hosts1. If you are managing your VMware environment in secure mode, retrieve the following security information from the host computers before you add the hosts:a. For all versions of ESX Server, secure mode requires a certificate. If you plan to use the self-signed certificates that VMware created when ESX Server was installed on the hosts, retrieve the certificates from the host computers. This is not required if you are using a certificate from a trusted certification authority.For hosts that are running VMware ESX Server 3.5 or VMware ESX Server 3.0.2, also retrieve the SSH public key from the host computer. A public key is not required for hosts running ESX Server 3i.b. For instructions for automating the preceding tasks, see Configuring Security for a Managed VMware Environment in VMM (<http://go.microsoft.com/fwlink/?LinkId=145051>).2.In any view in the VMM Administrator Console, on the Actions pane, click Add hosts to open the Add Hosts Wizard.3.On the Select Host Location page, click VMware ESX Server host, enter the credentials for an account with administrative privileges on the host, and then click Next.4.On the Select Host Servers page, do the following:a.In the Computer name or IP address box, type the computer name or IP address of an ESX Server host.b.In the Virtualization VirtualCenter list, select the VMware VirtualCenter Server you want to add the host to.ImportantIf the specified host is already being managed by VMM under a different VirtualCenter server, it will be moved from its current VirtualCenter server and added to the newly specified VirtualCenter Server.c. In the Host group list, select a host group for the host you want to add.NoteA VMware ESX Server host can be added only to the VirtualCenter Server's root host group or one of its children.d. Depending on whether you are managing your VMware environment in secure mode, do one of the following:-If secure mode is not turned on, click Add Host.-If secure mode is turned on, and you did not retrieve the certificate and public key manually, click Retrieve to have VMM connect to the host computer and retrieve the certificate and, if required, the SSH public key. For ESX Server 3i, the certificate is imported, but not a public key. Visually verify the authenticity of the items. Then select the Accept both the certificate and public key for this host check box, or, for a host running ESX Server 3i, select the Accept the certificate check box. Then click Add Host. For more information about secure mode, see Configuring Security for a Managed VMware Environment in VMM (<http://go.microsoft.com/fwlink/?LinkId=145051>).

NEW QUESTION: 3ソリューションアーキテクトは、Amazon

S3のデータを暗号化するソリューションを設計する必要があります。企業ポリシーでは、オンプレミスで暗号化キーを生成および管理することを義務付けています。

アーキテクトは、セキュリティ要件を満たすためにどのソリューションを使用する必要がありますか?A. SSE-C：顧客提供の暗号化キーを使用したサーバー側の暗号化B. AWS CloudHSM*C.

SSE-S3：Amazonが管理するマスターキーを使用したサーバー側の暗号化D. SSE-KMS：AWS KMS管理キーを使用したサーバー側の暗号化Answer: AExplanation:ExplanationProtecting Data Using Server-Side Encryption with AWS KMS-Managed Keys (SSE-KMS) Server-side encryption is about protecting data at rest. AWS Key Management Service (AWS KMS) is a service that combines secure, highly available hardware and software to provide a key management system scaled for the cloud. AWS KMS uses customer master keys (CMKs) to encrypt your Amazon S3 objects. You use AWS KMS via the Encryption Keys section in the IAM console or via AWS KMS APIs to centrally create encryption keys, define the policies that control how keys can be used, and audit key usage to prove they are being used correctly. You can use these keys to protect your data in Amazon S3 buckets.The first time you add an SSE-KMS-encrypted object to a bucket in a region, a default CMK is created for you automatically. This key is used for SSE-KMS encryption unless you select a CMK that you created separately using AWS Key Management Service. Creating your own CMK gives you more flexibility, including the ability to create, rotate, disable, and define access controls, and to audit the encryption keys used to protect your data.
