NEW QUESTION: 1A. Option B B. Option A C. Option D D. Option C Answer: C Explanation: Explanation explanation: The NRPT is a table that contains rules that you can configure to specify DNS settings or special behavior for names or namespaces. The NRPT can be configured using the Group Policy Management Editor under Computer Configuration\Policies\Windows Settings\Name Resolution Policy, or with Windows PowerShell. If a DNS query matches an entry in the NRPT, it is handled according to settings in the policy. Queries that do not match an NRPT entry are processed normally. You can use the NRPT to require that DNSSEC validation is performed on DNS responses for queries in the namespaces that you specify.

Add a route to a particular host to be used as a target in probe-based failure detection. $ route -p add -host destination-IP gateway-IP -static where destination-IP and gateway-IP are IPv4 addresses of the host to be used as a target. For example, you would type the following to specify the target system 192.168.10.137, which is on the same subnet as the interfaces in IPMP group itops0: $ route -p add -host 192.168.10.137 192.168.10.137 -static This new route will be automatically configured every time the system is restarted. If you want to define only a temporary route to a target system for probe-based failure detection, then do not use the -p option. 2. Add routes to additional hosts on the network to be used as target systems.
