NEW QUESTION: 1Which of the following is responsible for the most security issues?A. Equipment failureB. Outside espionageC. PersonnelD. HackersAnswer: C*Explanation:As I stated earlier in the comments, the great part of the attacks to companies comes from the personnel. Hackers are out there and attack some targets, but should never forget that your worst enemy can be inside of your company. Is for that that we usually implement IDS and profundity security. It's a very good practice to install Host based IDS to limit the ability of internal attackers through the machines. Another problem with personal is the ignorance, there are time that they just don't know what they are doing, and certainly are violating the security policy.

NEW QUESTION: 2A sales team needed to complete a PureFlex proposal before they had the opportunity to sort out the details of networking connectivity with the client networking team. Therefore, they did not change the networking defaults from the configuration. What consequences might result from this approach?A. The PureFlex system networking defaults are well thought out and will work well in most circumstances without changesB. The PureFlex system could be inoperable and require potentially expensive last-minute upgrades to get it operationalC. The PureFlex system networking defaults should work well for the Ethernet connectivity but the Fibre Channel SAN connectivity must be carefully planned to ensure interoperabilityD. The PureFlex system will work, but performance may be inadequate without potentially expensive upgradesAnswer: B

NEW QUESTION: 3Consider the following SQL statement which is using the InnoDB storage engine and with global AUTOCOMMIT = 1. What is the result after issuing the rollback command?A. Both the tables, t1 and t2 are created.B. Both the tables, t1 and t2, are not created because there is an explicit ROLLBACK.C. Only the t1 table is created.D. Only the t2 table is created.Answer: D

NEW QUESTION: 4 Which two characteristics of DTLS are true? (Choose two) A. It supports long data transfers and connectionless data transfers. B. It is used mostly by applications that use application layer object-protocols. C. It cannot be used if NAT exists along the path. D. It completes key negotiation and bulk data transfer over a single channel. E. It concludes a retransmission method because it uses an unreliable datagram transport. F. It includes a congestion control mechanism. Answer: A,D
