NEW QUESTION: 1 On your logical standby database, you specified these rules: SQL> EXECUTE DBMS_LOGSTBY.SKIP (STMT=> 'DML', -SCHEMA_NAME => 'HR', -OBJECT_NAME=> 'EMP_NEW'); SQL> EXECUTE DBMS_LOGSTBY.SKIP (STMT=> 'DML', -SCHEMA_NAME => 'HR', -OBJECT_NAME=> 'EMP_OLD'); After completion of the weekend batch cycle you attempt to delete the SQL Apply filters: SQL> EXECUTE DBMS_LOGSTBY.UNSKIP (STMT=> 'DML', -SCHEMA_NAME => 'HR', -OBJECT_NAME=> 'EMP%'); Which is true regarding the execution of the UNSKIP procedure? A. It deletes both the SQL Apply filters. B. It succeeds only if all DML statements executed on the primary have been applied on the logical standby deleting the SQL Apply filter. C. It returns an error because the syntax to delete a SQL Apply filter must specify the same object names as specified when the filter was added. D. It succeeds only if SQL apply is stopped before deleting the SQL Apply filter. E. It succeeds but the SQL Apply filters are not deleted. Answer: C Explanation: Explanation The UNSKIP procedure reverses the actions of the SKIP procedure by finding the record, matching all the parameters, and removing the record from the system table. The match must be exact, and multiple skip actions can be undone only by a matching number of unskip actions. You cannot undo multiple skip actions using wildcard characters. References:

NEW QUESTION: 2 Which statement is true about a SnapMirror destination vserver? A. It must be in the same cluster as the source Vserver. B. It must have a read-only Vserver root volume. C. It must have a different storage efficiency policy than the source Vserver. D. It must be created with the same language type as the source Vserver. Answer: D Explanation: Training material: Clustered_Data_ONTAP_82_Data_Protection_Guide How volume SnapMirror works with deduplication You can use volume SnapMirror to replicate a deduplicated volume regardless of size of the volume and logical data in the volume. When using volume SnapMirror with deduplication, you must consider the following information: You can enable deduplication on the source system, the destination system, or both systems. The shared blocks are transferred only once. Therefore, deduplication also reduces the use of network bandwidth. When the volume SnapMirror relationship is broken, the default deduplication schedule is applied at the destination storage system. When configuring volume SnapMirror and deduplication, you should coordinate the deduplication schedule and the volume SnapMirror schedule. You should start volume SnapMirror transfers of a deduplicated volume after the deduplication operation is complete. This schedule prevents the sending of unduplicated data and additional temporary metadata files over the network. If the temporary metadata files in the source volume are locked in Snapshot copies, these files consume extra space in the source and destination volumes.
