NEW QUESTION: 1You have a Microsoft SQL Server instance that hosts a database named DB1 that contains 800 gigabyte (GB) of data. The database is used 24 hours each day. You implement indexes and set the value of the Auto Update Statistics option set to True. Users report that queries take a long time to complete. You need to identify statistics that have not been updated for a week for tables where more than 1,000 rows changed. How should you complete the Transact-SQL statement? To answer, configure the appropriate Transact-SQL segments in the answer area. Answer: Explanation: Explanation
Box 1: stats_date See example below.
Box 2: rowmodctr See example below.
Box 3: stats_date You need to identify statistics that have not been updated for a week.
Box 4: rowmodctr You need to identify that more than 1,000 rows changed. Rowmodctr counts the total number of inserted, deleted, or updated rows since the last time statistics were updated for the table. Example: We will query every statistics object which was not updated in the last day and has rows modified since the last update. We will use the rowmodctr field of sys.sysindexes because it shows how many rows were inserted, updated or deleted since the last update occurred. Please note that it is not always 100% accurate in SQL Server 2005 and later, but it can be used to check if any rows were modified.--Get the list of outdated statistics
SELECT OBJECT_NAME(id), name, STATS_DATE(id, indid), rowmodctr FROM sys.sysindexes WHERE STATS_DATE (id, indid) <= DATEADD(DAY, -1, GETDATE()) AND rowmodctr > 0 AND id IN (SELECT object_id FROM sys.tables) GO
After collecting this information, we can decide which statistics require an update. References:

NEW QUESTION: 2 Welche Praxis bietet Benutzern die Möglichkeit, verschiedene Anfragen zu arrangieren, zu erklären und zu koordinieren?
A. Service Desk
B. Service Level Management
C. Kontinuierliche Verbesserung
D. Beziehungsmanagement
Answer: A
Explanation: Over time, the focus of service desks has broadened from simply logging and resolving technical issues, to providing more comprehensive support for people and the business. They are increasingly being used to get various matters arranged, explained, and coordinated. The service desk has a major influence on user experience and how the service provider is perceived by the users. By understanding and acting on the business context of transactional activity (i.e. logging tickets), the service desk is better placed to add value to the organization.

NEW QUESTION: 3 Which of the following is the BEST method to provide a new user with their initial password for e-mail system access?
A. Give a dummy password over the telephone set for immediate expiration
B. Set initial password equal to the user ID with expiration in 30 days
C. Require no password but force the user to set their own in 10 days
D. Interoffice a system-generated complex password with 30 days expiration
Answer: A
Explanation: Documenting the password on paper is not the best method even if sent through interoffice mail if the password is complex and difficult to memorize, the user will likely keep the printed password and this creates a security concern. A dummy (temporary) password that will need to be changed upon first logon is the best method because it is reset immediately and replaced with the user's choice of password, which will make it easier for the user to remember. If it is given to the wrong person, the legitimate user will likely notify security if still unable to access the system, so the security risk is low. Setting an account with no initial password is a security concern even if it is just for a few days. Choice D provides the greatest security threat because user IDs are typically known by both users and security staff, thus compromising access for up to 30 days.
