NEW QUESTION: 1 Which of the following refers to any authentication protocol that requires two independent ways to establish identity and privileges?
A. Dual-password authentication
B. Two-passphrases authentication
C. Strong-factor authentication
D. Rich-factor authentication
E. Two-factor authentication
F. Dual-keys authentication
Answer: E
Explanation:
Explanation/Reference: Explanation: Two-factor authentication (T-FA) refers to any authentication protocol that requires two independent ways to establish identity and privileges. Common implementations of two-factor authentication use 'something you know' as one of the two factors, and use either 'something you have' or 'something you are' as the other factor. In fact, using more than one factor is also called strong authentication. On the other hand, using just one factor is considered by some weak authentication.
