NEW QUESTION: 4David Stoyer is valuing a 400,000 square foot building. What is the value of his property using the sales/square ft technique assuming that the table below shows all recent sales of comparable properties in his proximate area?A. $20,374,000B. $22,500,000C. $20,000,000Answer: A*Explanation:Be careful of traps! This relatively straightforward question has several misleading answers. The correct answer requires a multiplication between the 400,000 square footage and the average sales/sq ft. In this problem, the average sales per square foot is 50.935. When this average is multiplied by 400,000 square feet, the valuation becomes $20,374,000. The answers of $20,000,000 and $ 25,000,000 are designed to trap candidates that select based on the same size (400,000) as the question. However, the correct answer should be based on the average, and not a specific property, per se.
