NEW QUESTION: 2Your network contains an Active Directory forest. The forest contains 10 domains. All domain controllers are configured as global catalog servers.You remove the global catalog role from a domain controller named DC5.You need to reclaim the hard disk space used by the global catalog on DC5.What should you do?A. From Ntdsutil, use the Semantic database analysis option.B. From Active Directory Sites and Services, run the Knowledge Consistency Checker (KCC).C. From Active Directory Sites and Services, modify the general properties of DC5.D. From Ntdsutil, use the Files option.Answer: DExplanation:Reference 1: <http://technet.microsoft.com/en-us/library/cc816618.aspx> Database defragmentation In cases in which the data decreases significantly, such as when the global catalog is removed from a domain controller, free disk space is not automatically returned to the file system. Although this condition does not affect database operation, it does result in large amounts of free disk space in the database. Whereas online defragmentation occurs automatically while AD DS is running, offline defragmentation requires taking the domain controller offline and using the Ntdsutil.exe command-line tool to perform the procedure. Reference 2: <http://technet.microsoft.com/en-us/library/cc794920.aspx> To perform offline defragmentation of the directory database1.Open a Command Prompt as an administrator: On the Start menu, right-click Command Prompt, and then click Run as administrator.
