NEW QUESTION: 4 Which statement about MSS is true? A. It is sent in SYN packets. B. It is negotiated between sender and receiver. C. It is 28 bytes lower than MTU by default. D. It is sent in all TCP packets. E. It is 20 bytes lower than MTU by default. Answer: A
Explanation: The maximum segment size (MSS) is a parameter of the Options field of the TCP header that specifies the largest amount of data, specified in octets, that a computer or communications device can receive in a single TCP segment. It does not count the TCP header or the IP header. The IP datagram containing a TCP segment may be self-contained within a single packet, or it may be reconstructed from several fragmented pieces; either way, the MSS limit applies to the total amount of data contained in the final, reconstructed TCP segment. The default TCP Maximum Segment Size is 536. Where a host wishes to set the maximum segment size to a value other than the default, the maximum segment size is specified as a TCP option, initially in the TCP SYN packet during the TCP handshake. The value cannot be changed after the connection is established. Reference. http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Maximum_segment_size
