NEW QUESTION: 4There are certain errors that are specific to the Salary item on the Employees form. You want to trap these errors only when the user navigates from the Salary item.You have a form-level On-Error trigger that traps errors that apply to the form in general, but you additionally code an item-level On-Error trigger for the Salary item.When testing the form, you find that the general errors are not trapped when you navigate from the Salary item.
