NEW QUESTION: 1Your network contains an internal network and a perimeter network. The internal network contains four offices. The perimeter network is located in a separate office. Each internal office has a direct WAN link to all other internal offices. Each of the four offices that make up the internal network is configured as an Active Directory site. The Active Directory sites and site links are configured as shown in the exhibit. (Click the Exhibit button.) Your company has an Exchange Server 2013 organization. Each site contains two servers that have the Mailbox server role and the Client Access server role installed. To the perimeter network, you deploy two servers that have Exchange Server 2010 Service Pack 2 (SP2) and the Edge Transport server role installed. You configure an Edge Subscription to Site1. You deploy a new email notification application to Site4. The application will send 25,000 email messages daily to external recipients. You need to identify which WAN links will have increased traffic from the new email application. Which WAN link or links should you identify? (Each answer presents part of the solution. Choose all that apply.)
A. The WAN link between Site4 and Site1
B. The WAN link between Site4 and the perimeter network
C. The WAN link between Site1 and the perimeter network
D. The WAN link between Site4 and Site3
E. The WAN link between Site4 and Site2
Answer: C, E
Explanation: Explanation/Reference: Explanation: C: the traffic will increase on the single WAN link on the perimeter network. E: The traffic will increase between Site4 and Site2 since the cost of this link (5) plus the cost of the link between Site2 and Site1 (1) is lower the cost on the direct link between Site4 and Site1 (10).

NEW QUESTION: 2A System Administrator begins receiving widespread reports of traffic latency and disruption from users and wants to determine which device in a network is causing the problem. Which step can the System Administrator take to rule out the XGS?
A. Ping sample hosts from the command line and note the time.
B. Use the dpi off command to disable inspection.
C. Restart the packet processing daemon.
D. Clear all active quarantine rules.
Answer: B
Explanation: Explanation/Reference: Question How can you bypass inspection on QRadar Network Security (XGS) to troubleshoot issues like latency or the XGS blocking traffic? Answer Starting in firmware 5.3.1.4 and continuing, you have the ability to bypass the inspection engine on the XGS for certain testing scenarios (such as traffic being blocked or latency through the XGS). All of the analysis is a result of the Protocol Analysis Module (PAM). PAM is responsible for Network Access Policy (NAP) rules, IPS, SSL inspection, URL analysis, and so on. Bypassing PAM allows the traffic to go through unanalyzed to help determine whether the XGS is causing the issue. To bypass PAM, do the following: 1. SSH to the device and login as admin. 2. Enter analysis to enter the analysis module. 3. To disable PAM, enter the following: dpi off You should now see a message that says: DPI is bypassed. This setting will be reverted upon next packet processing service restart. References: <http://www-01.ibm.com/support/docview.wss?uid=swg21965579>

NEW QUESTION: 3The cities with the densest population have the highest ratio of police officers to citizens. Such cities also have the lowest rates of property crime without contact between perpetrator and victim. Thus maintaining a high ratio of police officers to citizens can serve as an effective deterrent to at least certain kinds of property crime. Which of the following, if true, most seriously weakens the argument above?

A. A majority of the perpetrators of property crimes in densely populated cities are not apprehended by the police.
B. The quality of training that police receive varies from city to city.
C. Property crimes without contact between perpetrator and victim represent only a small proportion of overall crime.
D. High population density itself makes it difficult to commit a property crime that involves no contact between perpetrator and victim.
E. Many nonviolent crimes in large cities are drug-related.
Answer: D
